

Food Guide

Chicago Tribune Sunday, November 21, 1993

Tribune photo by John Dziekan
Jorianne gives a reading of swirling cream in a customer's coffee at Caffe Classico, 161 W. Madison St.

Forget your crystal ball? Have a cup of coffee, instead

There's more to the cream in your coffee than you think, according to Jorianne, the only-on-Tuesday, psychic-in-residence at Caffe Classico, a gourmet coffee and sandwich shop at 161 W. Madison St.

"The swirling cream creates moving pictures that tell a great deal about a person's past, present and future," she contends. "Unlike tea leaves and coffee sediments, both of which give the seer a single picture to interpret, this method yields multiple images, especially when the cream is added in several steps."

Jorianne says this form of divination is traditional in Hispanic cultures and believes that its accuracy rate is on a par with more commonly used techniques for predicting the future. She does not, however, feel the future is immutable.

"Everything is subject to change by choice," she states. "We are creatures of free will; I don't believe in fate."

Jorianne is available to Caffe Classico customers from 9 a.m. to noon and 2 to 6 p.m. Tuesdays, by appointment or on a drop-in basis. Readings are $10 for 10 minutes, $25 for 25 minutes. Call 312-782-0644.

Barbara Revsine